

Faith CARE

Learning How to Grow Restorative Churches 10 week online training

6:30 pm - 9:30 pm EST
Wednesdays, Fall 2024

Part 1: $400

Part 2: $400

Instructors: Anne Martin and Heidi De Jonge

Heidi De Jonge, M.Div., D.Min, is a restorative practice practitioner and trainer with FaithCARE. She is also a chaplain both at Queen's University and in a long term care home.

Anne Martin, PhD, is a restorative practice practitioner and trainer. Anne is the Director of Restorative Practice Services at Shalem. Shalem offers restorative practice services to faith communities, work places, schools and families.

This online training is divided in two parts:

Part 1: Framework and Circles

September 4 - October 2, 2024

In five weeks, you will explore a relational framework and explicit practices that help to build, sustain and heal relationships. You will learn and practice how to facilitate circles and learn how to implement restorative practices into your community.

Part 2: Formal Restorative Conferences

November 6 - December 4, 2024

During these five weeks, you will practice how to facilitate formal and informal conferences to deal with conflict and harm. (Part 1 is a prerequisite for Part 2 training).

A restorative congregation believes:

- every person has God-given worth
- no one is disposable
- conflict and harm can be most effectively addressed by attending to the healing of all persons affected.

shalem

Mental Health Network

Register for this online training:
www.shalemnetwork.org/events-workshops